Dear Jim:

As a constant reader of your column, I noted with special interest the fine piece you did on deer hunting, Thursday, June 3. I am concerned with wild animal conservation and the "sport" slaughtering of wildlife, and thus your column stirred this note.

Would you (and the Times) grant permission for a reprint of your "Oh Dear, No Deer" column in the National Humane Review, a slick humane-oriented magazine, published quarterly (I believe) out of Denver.

The column is a classic.

For your information, I'm enclosing a press release on our local wildlife conservation program. If you ever want to make the Animal Airlift trip, let me know.

Very truly yours,
